If your fabric cannot be washed use 2 layers of heat-away stabilizer otherwise I suggest 2 layers of wash-away stabilizer. However, using the heat away is very easy as most of the stabilizer can be torn away easily. When removing Heat away be careful that you do not pull on the Richelieu bars as they are quite fragile.

After the first colour, remove the hoop from the embroidery unit leaving the fabric inside the hoop. Carefully cut the fabric away as shown above being careful to leave the layers of stabilizer in place. If you inadvertently cut the stabilizer, repair it underneath with a small section of stabilizer with a little adhesive tape to hold it in place. This is best removed after the satin stitches are embroidered before you do the flowers.

These designs have been digitised carefully and this process takes a long time involving stitching out the designs to check on the quality. You have purchased a license to use these designs which are copyrighted and remain the property of Graceful Embroidery. The license is for your personal use only, enabling them to be loaded on your computer and embroidery machine. Editing the designs is not allowed if you are selling the finished product.
